Executive Summary

First, I would like to thank Norm Johnson and the rest of the Village of Orland Park for the opportunity to bid on your project. I would also like to thank Mr. Johnson for his time in the walkout process, as I have gained a lot of valuable information from that meeting.

Six Underground Construction Company is a full service, turnkey contractor. Meaning we will be able to get both the design and construction part of any project completed – both on time and on budget. In the years our doors have been open we have completed many projects like yours, and feel this experience as well as our standards for quality and determination to get the projects done in the quickest time possible are in part of what has made us a successful company, and allowed us to remain in business for so long.

For anyone that is looking for a full service, turnkey contractor to come in and complete all the work is the best way to go. One person to go to get all of your questions answered, and one person to talk to in order to make sure all your concerns are addressed. Six Underground is that company, being able to focus on the design and construction part of the project while at the same time, keeping exact records of everything, and the comfort that each hand knows what the other one is doing. That being able to call one person and get a response instead of having many chiefs all talking to each other and that takes a toll on progress.

Our approach has always been that you get what you pay for. On the wall of our office is a banner that reads, "Make it Right", and all of our technicians, electricians, laborers and operators are brought into the company with that mindset. That if you're going to do something, do it right, this way you won't have to have someone else go back after you're gone to fix something – you know it was done right the first time.

The best way to choose a contractor is to talk to the people they've done business with, and get their take on it. Look at pictures of the contractor's work, or if possible actually go into the field and get a firsthand look at it. We document a lot of our work, and by that I mean take pictures of it, and we'd be more than happy to provide examples of our work for the Village to go over. We take pride in our work and we're happy to sign our name to any job we do, and we'd be extremely happy to sign our name to any job we do for the Village.

Construction and Installation

As was stated in the executive summary, we at Six Underground feel we have the best approach to getting the job done for you. We know exactly what it will take to install the fiber optic cabling, doing the underground construction work, and splicing the fiber, and will have the appropriate personnel on the ground (and in the air) to make sure that happens.

ISP/OSP Construction

Inside Plant Construction, or ISP, is something we're very familiar with. Our crews have the proper equipment, and proper training to handle any job. From re-wiring an apartment or condo, to a 20 floor high-rise, we have the right tools to handle all the wire pulling, conduit installation, and concrete and brick cores to get the job done effectively, and correctly the first time. Some of our more notable jobs in this category are the Sears Tower and Hancock Building in Chicago. Outside Plant Construction, or OSP, is our bread and butter. This involves all aspects of aerial and underground construction, including, but not limited to directional boring. Our outside plant experience stems from the years we've been working for companies like Comcast, AT&T, Wide Open West and Knology hanging strand and cable, directional boring, open cutting concrete and trenching, among many others.

Fiber Optic Wiring

Since its inception, Six Underground has been working on fiber optic and copper wiring projects. Our splicers have many years of knowledge and we have all the right tools – splicers, OTDR's, Fluke DTX 1800's, all regular hand tools – to complete any inside plant or outside plant project. We are also the first contractor a lot of our clients call for new installations in network cabling – Cat 5e and Cat 6 – because they know the quality of service they will get from us.

Warranty

We offer a one (1) year limited warranty on all work performed, and if there are any problems, we will fix them at no charge for that one year period. The warranty will be void if after we're done, someone comes in and re-splices the fiber splices.

The warranty is limited to craftsmanship only and does not cover any cut cables (either indoors or outdoors) that were hit during another contractors underground construction, or during any renovation in either building.

We offer no warranty, other than the manufacturer's warranty on any materials provided during the installation.

Ability to Perform

Six Underground is a complete turnkey contractor, with 2 aerial construction crews, 2 underground construction crews, and 3 in house splicers, 2 of which have fiber optic splicing capabilities. We would be able to commit our underground crew and fiber optic splicers to this project, and we have access to any number of sub-contractors for any specialty work.

In the 9 years we've been in business, we have not had any litigation brought against us, either by the Government or by any individual or business with whom we have done business. We also have no pending litigation whatsoever, and have never been behind paying any of our creditors. We also have a wonderful working arrangement with our subcontractors, all of whom are paid on time and in full.

Our insurance is up-to-date and has never lapsed. We currently hold a $2,000,000.00 umbrella policy with up to $1,000,000.00 per incident; have current workman's compensation insurance and automobile insurance. We also have current workman's compensation, general liability and auto insurance on our subcontractors.

Brief History

Six Underground came into existence after Joe Cosentino, the firm's president, was discharged from the United States Marine Corps with an Honorable Discharge. Over the years, our capabilities grew and we started taking more and more clients, all over the country, with much success. We currently do work for a number of city, county, and state governments, as well as many private firms. We also have contracts and sub-contracts with different companies like Comcast, Knology, AT&T, and Wide Open West.

Our staff includes:

- Joe Cosentino – Coax, Network Cabling, Fiber Optic Cabling, ISP/OSP Construction
- Terry McCurdy – Coax, Network Cabling, Fiber Optic Cabling, ISP/OSP Construction
- Kevin Hart – Coax, Network Cabling, Fiber Optic Cabling, ISP/OSP Construction
- Brandon Black – Coax, Fiber Optic Cabling, ISP/OSP Construction
- Joseph Mintzer – Outside Plant Laborer
- Aaron Redman – Outside Plant Laborer
- Steve Long – Crew Leader

Having worked on long haul and short extensions of fiber optic work, and splicing anything from a 512 count fiber trunk line to a 2-strand lateral, we've done most everything when it comes to fiber optic work. From building new fiber throughout school districts to re-working entire sports stadiums (Verizon Center in Washington, DC), we've got the knowledge and know how to get the job done right the first time. Our network wiring gurus have wired up entire hospitals, hotels, and state facility buildings with Cat 5e and Cat 6 cable. They are all masters of their craft when it comes to finding and creating pathways from patch panel to wall outlet. We are also a BICSI Corporate Member.

Methods of Installation

Directional Boring Conduits

The first part of our work for this project, will be to directional bore in the new conduit. Why is this important and why should it be done this way? The answer to that is to minimize surface disruption (not to destroy the grass, parking lot, or streets), which means less restoration work for the Village. Imagine having a big scar in the earth where the conduit was trenched in, or only having to worry about some 3'x3' pits to worry about.

Pulling the Fiber

During the process of pulling the fiber through the duct, we are going to install a tracer wire, as per the Village spec, but we are also going to pull in an extra pull rope so if the Village would ever like to use the duct to pull in something else, there is already an existing pull rope available. We do this on every job we do because it is simply the best and smartest way to do it.

Inside Plant Work

The second part will be running the conduits inside, along the route proposed in the bid documents. At each building, and below ground we will end the innerduct (HDPE pipe) and transfer to steel so that there is no chance of sabotage. For the Centennial Park side of the job, we are planning to utilize the existing conduit if it's possible (ie: the conduit is not damaged or obstructed below ground).

Fiber Splicing

The fiber splicing will be the last part of the project and will be scheduled ahead of time with the appropriate staff. At each building we will splice factory made pigtailed into the newly run fiber in order to achieve the best possible connection. When you use mechanical splices you have a high reflection rate which will cause the fiber not to run as it should. When you install connectors in the field (instead of using ready-made pigtailed), the gel that is in the connector tends to dry out over time and cause reflections also.

Materials

During my walkthrough I asked several questions regarding the materials we are planning to use for this job. There are 2 deviations we are going to use that work out to the Village's favor: (1), we are planning on using a 2" HDPE duct (innerduct) instead of 1 1/4", which will allow more expandability in the future; and (2) we are going to pull in a 24ct fiber instead of 12, which also allows for more expandability for the Village in the future. We currently have a surplus of these items and are providing them to the Village at the same cost as for the 1 1/4" and 12ct.

Project Timeline and Milestones

Event	Task	Time Allotted
Awarded Contract	Order materials Call in Locates to JULIE	2 – 3 days
Locates Are Ready	Start Underground Work - Directional Boring - Building Penetrations - Set Vaults	1 week
Outside Construction is Complete	Install corrugated innerduct inside buildings; install pull ropes through entire route.	1 day
Pathway is Created	Pull Fiber In with Extra Pull Ropes and Locate Wires	1 day
All Fiber is Run	Fusion Splice All Fibers	1 day
Fiber is Spliced	OTDR Testing of all Fibers (done same day as splicing – or next day depending on time of night)	2 hours
All Fibers are Tested	Turn system over to the Village.	1 day

This is a basic time table for the work to be performed, and several things may be going on at once.

Total time from the start of the project to the end of the project is estimated to be 15-22 days, however if we can get it done before that, we most definitely will try!
