

Established in 1986 by Murray Weiner, Entertainment Management Group (EMG) is a family-owned business and a premier, trusted entertainment consultant serving Chicagoland. With a client base comprised of municipalities, corporations, and organizations, EMG has a stellar reputation in the areas of talent buying, promotion, budgeting, negotiation, contracting, production, and on-site event logistics. Entertainment Management Group delivers the most recognized national acts, popular local and regional bands, professional athletes, and television/radio personalities.

In 1967, Murray booked his first show...a fledgling band called CTA, later to become the band Chicago. For the next 19 years, Murray earned his stripes managing and booking many Chicago based bands. With the formation of EMG, the focus shifted to providing talent for corporate functions, municipal festivals, and non-profit organization events. A partial list of national acts EMG has booked and promoted includes...
